

This Month's Tip on Looking Thin:

Haven't we all experienced the horror of being invited to an event only to have to participate in a group photo? These can be fabulous after weeks of dieting, but what to do if one pops up while one is as fat as a whale? I find the best thing to do is to locate the largest person in the group, and then go and stand beside them. When you see the photo you'll think to yourself, My God, I am so thin!

This month's tested recipe:

Sweet Potato Soup

Peel and cook 3 - 4 sweet potatoes until tender

Put into blender and add a can of chicken stock and two cups of yogurt

Saute a chopped onion in some butter until tender, add the blender ingredients to the onions, plus 2 ounces of sherry and simmer all for about 20 minutes.

August's money-saving tip: Very cheap dog mats

On TV recently they've been advertising pee mats for indoor use. As anyone who owns a small dog knows, an area carpet is a magnet for them. So why buy one of these mats when you can go to Value Village and get a small shaggy rug for under $5.00? All you need to do is open up a large black garbage bag and place the rug on top of that. Wait. By the next day you will have been rewarded with several large pee stains, showing you that the mat is indeed working.

Summertime Gift Idea

This is for people who have a vegetable garden, but even if you don't, you could do this by shopping at your local farmer's market. Go to Value Village and buy a bunch of different-sized baskets (all baskets there are $1.00) and some cute cloth napkins (also dirt cheap). Into the cloth-lined basket you then place a few beets, a bunch of carrots, some tomatoes, a lovely cucumber, etc. If insane, such as myself, add a jar of homemade jam or chutney. If not insane, buy a jar from one of the crafters at your local market.
